

BOTH SENATORS REPLY TO CHARGES

Martin and Swanson Greeted by Audience of 5,000 at Danville.

LAST SPEECHES OF CAMPAIGN

Hold Public Reception at Hotel.
In Afternoon at Chatham.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., September 6.—One of the largest audiences that has gathered at the Ridge Street Tabernacle in years assembled to-night to hear the closing speeches in the campaign for United States senatorship from Virginia, when Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson, both candidates for re-election, gave an account of their stewardship and replied to the charges made against them during the campaign by their opponents, Messrs. Jones and Glass, aspirants for the senatorship.

It is estimated that 5,000 persons filled the large auditorium. The two speakers were given a gratifying reception. This is the first time probably in the history of the city that two United States Senators have addressed the citizens and voters at one meeting.

The Senators reached the city this afternoon from Chatham, where they addressed an immense throng during the afternoon. They were met at the station by a committee of representatives of the men and a band, and were escorted to the Morgan Hotel, which was their headquarters while here, and during the afternoon they held an informal reception in the lobby, where they met many friends and admirers.

At 5 o'clock, accompanied by a large delegation, Senators Martin and Swanson went to the Tabernacle, where they addressed the voters for about three hours. Seats on the stage were occupied by prominent citizens.

The meeting was presided over by Colonel Dudley, and Senator Martin, who was introduced by W. T. Harris, spoke first. He was followed by Senator Swanson, who was introduced by Mayor Woodling. Senator Martin reviewed his record in Congress and answered the Jones charges. He stated that he remained at his post in Washington, feeling that the people of the Old Dominion had confidence in him. Instead of running around the country in the interest of his candidacy, as some others had done.

Senator Swanson met the charges of his opponents. He defended his administration as Governor and called attention to the progress throughout the State, the increased school facilities and public road improvement. He answered the charges that have been uttered against him regarding his appointment as United States Senator and repelled the charges as unworthy of men who have every facility to obtain the facts.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Chatham, Va., September 6.—Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson spoke to 2,000 people in the Star warehouse here to-day. Dr. R. W. Martin, of Lynchburg, presented Senator Martin, who was greeted with great applause.

The speaker was very severe in his arraignment of his opponents, and denied any Jones advocates to show anything that Jones had accomplished since he became a member of Congress. Reviewing his record, Senator Martin stated that no measure championed by him met defeat in the last Senate, and would to-day be laws, except for the President's veto. His explanation of the charges preferred by his opponent were gone into, and his explanation seemed to meet with the approval of his hearers. His attitude on the Union Station bill, ship subsidy and the Lorimer case were explained in full, and in speaking of his opponent and two other Democrats were the only Democratic votes cast for it. Mr. Martin spoke for more than two hours and was given close attention.

An old-time barbecue was served immediately after the close of Senator Martin's speech, the women of Chatham and company serving.

At 2 o'clock C. R. Warren, in a speech of a few minutes, introduced Senator Swanson. He reviewed his administration as Governor, in which his promises of good roads and good schools, when a candidate, had been

A Family Necessity

Duff's Pure Malt Whiskey

Made entirely of clean, selected grain, thoroughly malted—an absolutely pure tonic stimulant that should be in every medicine chest—widely and favorably known for over 50 years.

Duff's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

The genuine is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by all druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 per large bottle. The Duff Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

kept, showing that the number of high schools had been more than doubled, and that convict camps had been established over the State to make permanent highways. Senator Swanson explained the expenditures of the State's money while Governor, showing that pensions for old soldiers had been increased more than $350,000 and that the establishment of the Board of Charities had come in for a good share. More than once he spoke of his opponent as a "sleuthhound."

Swanson spoke for two hours, and was accorded close attention.

APPLAUSE DROWNS INTERFERING BAND

(Continued from First Page.)

Institutions, no doubt the reward of his action. If the whole story of that contest were written, there would be no occasion for this gathering.

Mr. Hunton presented George Bryan to introduce the speaker of the evening. Mr. Bryan sketched the progress of the present campaign from its small beginnings last January until the present. The signal "C. O. D." had been finally sent out by the machine, he said, and Mr. Flood responded. Then followed the signal "S. O. S." and Mr. Williams came from Roanoke. Yet the State, he asserted, had been shaken from center to circumference, and the issue had become one of whether Virginia is to be represented in the Senate "by a combination of silence, evasiveness and mediocrity, or by men worthy of the best traditions of the old Commonwealth."

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Chatham, Va., September 6.—Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson spoke to 2,000 people in the Star warehouse here to-day. Dr. R. W. Martin, of Lynchburg, presented Senator Martin, who was greeted with great applause.

The speaker was very severe in his arraignment of his opponents, and denied any Jones advocates to show anything that Jones had accomplished since he became a member of Congress. Reviewing his record, Senator Martin stated that no measure championed by him met defeat in the last Senate, and would to-day be laws, except for the President's veto. His explanation of the charges preferred by his opponent were gone into, and his explanation seemed to meet with the approval of his hearers. His attitude on the Union Station bill, ship subsidy and the Lorimer case were explained in full, and in speaking of his opponent and two other Democrats were the only Democratic votes cast for it. Mr. Martin spoke for more than two hours and was given close attention.

An old-time barbecue was served immediately after the close of Senator Martin's speech, the women of Chatham and company serving.

At 2 o'clock C. R. Warren, in a speech of a few minutes, introduced Senator Swanson. He reviewed his administration as Governor, in which his promises of good roads and good schools, when a candidate, had been kept, showing that the number of high schools had been more than doubled, and that convict camps had been established over the State to make permanent highways. Senator Swanson explained the expenditures of the State's money while Governor, showing that pensions for old soldiers had been increased more than $350,000 and that the establishment of the Board of Charities had come in for a good share. More than once he spoke of his opponent as a "sleuthhound."

Swanson spoke for two hours, and was accorded close attention.

Mr. Hunton presented George Bryan to introduce the speaker of the evening. Mr. Bryan sketched the progress of the present campaign from its small beginnings last January until the present. The signal "C. O. D." had been finally sent out by the machine, he said, and Mr. Flood responded. Then followed the signal "S. O. S." and Mr. Williams came from Roanoke. Yet the State, he asserted, had been shaken from center to circumference, and the issue had become one of whether Virginia is to be represented in the Senate "by a combination of silence, evasiveness and mediocrity, or by men worthy of the best traditions of the old Commonwealth."

The direct charge was made by Governor Montague that both Mr. Martin and Mr. Swanson opposed the calling of the Constitutional Convention in 1900. He was there, he said, and knew this to be true. His comment was that they did not seem to care much then about white supremacy and the preservation of Anglo-Saxon domination.

Used Money for Martin.

Speaking plainly at the conclusion of his analysis of the J. S. B. Thompson letters Governor Montague asserted that the money there referred to, secured from the railroads, was used not only to defeat white Democrats, but was used to put Mr. Martin in the Senate over General Fitzhugh Lee, "and," he added, "every man who has sense enough to walk out of this auditorium knows it, too."

With much effect the speaker asserted that the doctrine of the Declaration of Independence of government "of the people, by the people and for the people" had been changed into "government of, by and for the few—of, by and for the bosses—of, by and for friends." The best descriptive word, he thought, had been used by Senator Martin—"the gang."

Office-Holding Rule.

Among the evidence of machine rule Mr. Montague mentioned the desire to control all the offices. Estimating the number of these in Virginia at 8,000, he made a calculation that they control 48,000 votes, on the principle that one officer can get five to vote with him. The result, he argued, is an oligarchy which is binding and gagging the people hand and foot.

Employing his sarcasm in discussing the Flood speech at West Point, Mr. Montague mentioned the horse which was commissioned by the Roman Emperor, Caligula, as a consul, and said people in Rome at that day said that they had the greatest consul the world ever saw.

Refers to Byrd.

He himself, he continued, had been called a Republican "by Mr. Byrd, would-be statesman and peripatetic Attorney-General by action of the Legislature in which he was Speaker. They see in an invitation to me to lunch with the President the claim that I am a Republican, when the same crowd dogs the White House and would lick its crests from the front door to the third story to get an invitation to dine and lunch. No man ever saw me on the breast of the machine; if I had been there I would have atung it. I have some reason to be proud of the enemies I have made."

Governor Mann he dismissed as "a mere wheel in the cog of the machine. He has very little to do with the running, and just keeps his seat."

His own administration he compared with that of Mr. Swanson. The latter, he charged, had kept back from the Legislature the facts regarding the State's financial condition. Further, he said, Mr. Swanson had misrepresented every other Governor to make his own administration appear brilliant and efficient. He thought the junior Senator's connection with the post-office scandals had not been sufficiently emphasized, charging that in the congressional report on that matter Mr. Swanson had never allowed his explanation to be printed in the Congressional Record.

Makes Last Appeal.

Making the final appeal of the campaign to the voters of Richmond, Governor Montague said that Senator Martin's voice had been raised for public righteousness or civic virtue. It was time, he said, to dissolve the political union which has ruled the Commonwealth, and to open the doors of opportunity to her citizens.

His conclusion was delayed for some time by the cheers which arose at an interruption. He had said he was not an aspirant for office, and did not know that his name would ever again be before the people in this connection. "Yes, it will," shouted an enthusiast, and the crowd went wild, many of them standing up and waving hats and handkerchiefs, as they had done when he arose to begin his address.

Torchlight Committee.

The Torchlight parade was advertised yesterday as follows:

"Starting from the City Hall at 8 o'clock, the procession will move up Broad Street to Harrison, then to Harrison to Franklin, on Franklin to Seventh, Seventh to Free Bridge and the Southside then back to Main Street, down through Fulton, then to Church Hill and back to the City Hall by way of the new viaduct."

The committee is composed as follows: George M. Cease, Henry S. Hotchkiss, Field Wilson, R. M. Brandon, Lee A. Folker, W. Douglas Gordon, Nathan Hellstern, John Hirschberg, William F. Gordon, Morgan R. Mills, W. S. Seaman, J. H. Crenshaw and John Alsop.

MEETS AT NEWPORT NEWS.

International Claim Association in Annual Session.

Newport News, Va., September 6.—With representatives present from nearly every insurance company in United States and many from Canada, the International Claim Association assembled in its second annual convention at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point, this morning for a three days' session. The morning session practically was consumed in the appointments of committees and routine business.

During the afternoon addresses were made by Dr. W. L. Gahagan, of New York, President of the association, and Guy Stevens, of Baltimore, and E. D. Harsh, of Des Moines. Mr. Stevens spoke on "The Loss of the Claim Exclusion," and Mr. Harsh, "Personal Accident Insurance Adjusting as a Profession." The convention adjourns to-morrow and Friday, holding two sessions each day.

JOHN H. MONTAGUE PASSES AWAY

Well-Known Citizen Dies at His Home at the Age of Eighty-Nine.

John H. Montague, eighty-nine years old, of the firm of Montague & Co., died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at his home, 118 East Franklin Street, succumbing after a brief illness. Though he had been ill for about one month, his condition was not alarming until a few days ago.

Mr. Montague was well known in Richmond. He was prominent in business circles, and socially he had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He was a deep student, an unusually cultivated man, with a great fund of wit and humor.

Though born in Buckingham county, he was brought to Richmond while in infancy by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Montague. He spent his entire life in this city. During the War between the States he was a member of the Home Guard and also served in the Ambulance Corps, of which he was one of the last living members.

He leaves four children—Mrs. J. Arthur Lefroy, Miss Helen Montague, John H. Montague, Jr., all of Richmond, and Meredith F. Montague, of New York; nine grandchildren—Mrs. Clifford Caperton, Mrs. J. T. Robinson, Miss M. L. Montague, Miss Nannie Montague, Miss Emily Montague, Percy Montague, Neville Montague, Triplet Montague and Meredith Montague—and eight great-grandchildren.

Mr. Montague was a charter member of the old Richmond Club and served as its president for fourteen years. He was a member of Joppa Lodge, No. 49, A. F. and A. M.

The funeral will be conducted from St. James Episcopal Church to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 5 o'clock.

STARTS 20-YEAR TERM

Paul Geldel Goes to Prison as Penalty for Slaying Broker.

New York, September 6.—Paul Geldel shook hands with his keepers at the Tombs to-day and started for Sing Sing Prison to pay the penalty for murdering William H. Jackson. None of his relatives or friends was on hand to say good-bye to the former bell boy.

All attempts of the banking officials to reassure the depositors have proved fruitless.

What France Demands.

Berlin, September 6.—The French proposals to Germany outlining a solution of the Morocco difficulty, according to an apparently inspired article in the Lokai Anzeiger, was submitted in the form of an elaborate draft of a treaty.

France, the paper says, is not haggling over the question of territorial compensation. It has given a free hand in Morocco. Germany is willing to grant her full political freedom over corresponding political obligations, including the protection of life and property of German subjects and end the abnormal status under which the French authorities have sheltered themselves behind the native regime when German rights were infringed.

No difficulties are apprehended over the question of the employment of black troops in a future European war, since Morocco probably could not be pacified in many years, and troops raised elsewhere in Africa have not proved particularly reliable.

The Chief Difficulty.

Economic arrangements offer the chief difficulty in the way of a settlement. Germany, according to the Lokai Anzeiger, must insist upon the most minute guarantees for her economic and commercial interests, as the French government, unfortunately, under the pressure of concession seekers, has a constant tendency to violate and evade obligations in this respect.

Mineral deposits must be opened unrestrictedly to all nations without taxes, export duties or other devices which would shut out competition.

The tone of the article indicates a thorough lack of confidence in France's good faith unless it is backed up by the most substantial guarantees.

Arnold Makes New Record.

Washington, D. C., September 6.—A new altitude record for the army was made to-day by Lieutenant Henry H. Arnold, of the army aviation school, at College Park, Md., when he reached a height of 5,075 feet. The previous record for the army fliers was 4,385 feet, made by the same officer, Arnold, in the air forty-two months.

Lexington Docks at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., September 6.—Towed into Savannah harbor, the M. and M. T. Company steamer Lexington docked here late to-day. She went ashore at the mouth of the Edisto River August 25 during the recent storm.

EARLY AGREEMENT SEEMS PROBABLE

France Hears Germany Has Accepted Proposals Concerning Morocco.

Paris, September 6.—Advices received here to-day from Berlin intimate that the German Imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, has indicated his acceptance of France's proposals, presented last Monday to the German foreign minister, Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, by the French ambassador, M. Cambon, looking to a settlement of the Moroccan dispute.

The French foreign office, however, maintains an attitude of reserve regarding the progress of the negotiations.

Dispatches, which look as though they had common origin at the French embassy in Berlin, received to-day by several Paris newspapers, also indicate that an early agreement between France and Germany in the Moroccan dispute is probable.

Warships in Shant Battle.

Kiel, Germany, September 6.—The evolutions of the great German naval fleet of ninety-nine warships, following a grand review yesterday by Emperor William and Crown Prince Franz Ferdinand of Austria and their staffs, were concluded with a night "battle" off Kiel.

The numerous vessels of the torpedo fleet made a combined "attack" on the high sea battleship fleet, on which the Emperor and his guests were returning to the harbor.

The glare of the searchlight, accompanied by the varied-colored rocket signals and the flashes of the powerful guns, presented a wild and interesting spectacle.

Run on Banks Continues.

Stettin, Purland, September 6.—The run on the savings banks here, caused by the circulation of rumors that war between France and Germany was impending, continued to-day.

All attempts of the banking officials to reassure the depositors have proved fruitless.

What France Demands.

Berlin, September 6.—The French proposals to Germany outlining a solution of the Morocco difficulty, according to an apparently inspired article in the Lokai Anzeiger, was submitted in the form of an elaborate draft of a treaty.

France, the paper says, is not haggling over the question of territorial compensation. It has given a free hand in Morocco. Germany is willing to grant her full political freedom over corresponding political obligations, including the protection of life and property of German subjects and end the abnormal status under which the French authorities have sheltered themselves behind the native regime when German rights were infringed.

No difficulties are apprehended over the question of the employment of black troops in a future European war, since Morocco probably could not be pacified in many years, and troops raised elsewhere in Africa have not proved particularly reliable.

The Chief Difficulty.

Economic arrangements offer the chief difficulty in the way of a settlement. Germany, according to the Lokai Anzeiger, must insist upon the most minute guarantees for her economic and commercial interests, as the French government, unfortunately, under the pressure of concession seekers, has a constant tendency to violate and evade obligations in this respect.

Mineral deposits must be opened unrestrictedly to all nations without taxes, export duties or other devices which would shut out competition.

The tone of the article indicates a thorough lack of confidence in France's good faith unless it is backed up by the most substantial guarantees.

Arnold Makes New Record.

Washington, D. C., September 6.—A new altitude record for the army was made to-day by Lieutenant Henry H. Arnold, of the army aviation school, at College Park, Md., when he reached a height of 5,075 feet. The previous record for the army fliers was 4,385 feet, made by the same officer, Arnold, in the air forty-two months.

Lexington Docks at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., September 6.—Towed into Savannah harbor, the M. and M. T. Company steamer Lexington docked here late to-day. She went ashore at the mouth of the Edisto River August 25 during the recent storm.

George Ade's New Fables

The First of Mr. Ade's Famous

1911 Fables in Slang

Will Appear in To-Day's Issue

of the Illustrated Sunday Magazine of

The Sunday Times-Dispatch

ALL THAT WE ASK is that you make it a special point to read to-day's fable. If you do you will surely read the other ten, which appear in the following issues. Next Sunday's fable is entitled

The 1911 Fable of the Heir and the Heiress

and the Heirs-to-Be

Other Live Features in This Issue

"The Sure Thing Mystery," by Etta Anthony Baker;

"Queen Marie Antoinette," another in the series of Wonderful Women of the World, by Deshler Welch; "The Habit of Reading," by Linda De K. Fulton; "The Big Midsummer Swindle," by Harold Arthur Drake; "The Will That Puzzled," by Albert J. Klinck; "The Neighbor's Phone," by Morris Wade; "Kit Carson," by John L. Cowan; "The Annals of the P. O. Club," by John Kendrick Bangs; "The Angler's Axiom," by Charles Bradford.

Handsome Colored Cover by Mitchell

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
September 7, 1911.
High Tide.
Sun rises 5:45 Morning 3:26
Sun sets 6:31 Evening 5:56

Too Late for Classification.
FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING
rooms. Phone Monroe 830. 7 North gate.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles and cures Constipation. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

GOES FASTER THAN A MILE A MINUTE

Boston, September 6.—A remarkable speed of 21 minutes 35.1 seconds for thirty-three miles over water, carrying a passenger, was made by Claude Grahame-White, the Englishman, in winning the Boston light race in his seaplane monoplane on the closing day of the Boston-Harvard aero meet to-day. Tom Sopwith, another Briton, was second in his Blériot, in 30 minutes and 5 seconds without a passenger.

Grahame-White, in landing from the Boston light cross-sea flight of thirty-three miles to-day, carrying his mechanical passenger, ditched his car. The aviator was thrown into the forward rim of the chassis and received a cut on the lip.

Lieutenant T. D. Milling, of the United States Army, whose home is in Franklin, La., flying a Burgess-Wright biplane, won the figure eight speed event, and then took the accuracy in landing test with a mark of 50.3 feet.

Arnold Makes New Record.

Washington, D. C., September 6.—A new altitude record for the army was made to-day by Lieutenant Henry H. Arnold, of the army aviation school, at College Park, Md., when he reached a height of 5,075 feet. The previous record for the army fliers was 4,385 feet, made by the same officer, Arnold, in the air forty-two months.

Lexington Docks at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., September 6.—Towed into Savannah harbor, the M. and M. T. Company steamer Lexington docked here late to-day. She went ashore at the mouth of the Edisto River August 25 during the recent storm.

George Ade's New Fables

The First of Mr. Ade's Famous

1911 Fables in Slang

Will Appear in To-Day's Issue

of the Illustrated Sunday Magazine of

The Sunday Times-Dispatch

ALL THAT WE ASK is that you make it a special point to read to-day's fable. If you do you will surely read the other ten, which appear in the following issues. Next Sunday's fable is entitled

The 1911 Fable of the Heir and the Heiress

and the Heirs-to-Be

Other Live Features in This Issue

"The Sure Thing Mystery," by Etta Anthony Baker;

"Queen Marie Antoinette," another in the series of Wonderful Women of the World, by Deshler Welch; "The Habit of Reading," by Linda De K. Fulton; "The Big Midsummer Swindle," by Harold Arthur Drake; "The Will That Puzzled," by Albert J. Klinck; "The Neighbor's Phone," by Morris Wade; "Kit Carson," by John L. Cowan; "The Annals of the P. O. Club," by John Kendrick Bangs; "The Angler's Axiom," by Charles Bradford.

Handsome Colored Cover by Mitchell

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
September 7, 1911.
High Tide.
Sun rises 5:45 Morning 3:26
Sun sets 6:31 Evening 5:56

Too Late for Classification.
FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING
rooms. Phone Monroe 830. 7 North
gate.

The Fourth Week of the Sale Do Some Furniture Thinking and Buy- ing This Week

Remember, this "Record Breaker Sale" of FURNITURE, CARPETS and RUGS is made only possible on account of the move to our mammoth store at SEVENTH AND GRACE STREETS.

Hydrox Laundry Inc.

Too Late for Classification.
FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING
rooms. Phone Monroe 830. 7 North
gate.